

Greetings from TSUNAA New National President

Greetings Fellow Alumni and Friends,

With the start of a new year, a series of new beginnings are upon us. In the coming months, this year's national football champion will be crowned, new names will be recorded among past Oscar winners, the country will begin the process of selecting its Commander in Chief for the next four years, and Texas Southern University will celebrate 85 years of "Legends and Leaders."

In the spirit of new beginnings, it is with great pride that I commence my term as Texas Southern National Alumni President and look forward to serving Texas Southern University alumni in all that we do. I want to thank the immediate past administration, under the leadership of Marcus Davis, for their time, hard work, dedication and service to TSUNAA. Under his leadership our alumni have been actively involved with Texas Southern University and Connie Cochran our Director of Alumni Relations, to ensure that the TSU tradition of high standards of excellence is maintained.

As the 2012 journey begins, this administration will work diligently to increase alumni membership, participation, chapter effectiveness and community service involvement.

You are vital to the success of TSUNAA and to Texas Southern University, so step forward and volunteer to work alongside us. Let's reclaim lost Tigers that have gone astray. I will leave you with this reminder "There has never been anything meek or mild about the power and presence of a Tiger." It is in that spirit that we begin to conquer the New Year.

Sincerely and with much Tiger Love,

Julia Askew, '81, '85
TSUNAA National President